

Table of contents

Preface 2

Summary 4

1. Introduction 7

1.1 Motivation & Background 7

1.2 Together We Can 8

1.3 South Africa: current situation 10

1.4 Dominican Republic: current situation 11

1.5 Attitudes and Behaviour 12

1.5.1 Attitude 13

1.5.2 Janz' and Becker's Health Belief Model 13

1.5.3 Fishbein and Ajzen's Theory of Planned Behaviour 14

1.5.4 Bandura's Self-efficacy Theory 16

1.5.5 Integrated Model of Predictive Behaviour 17

1.6 Attending, comprehending and accepting a persuasive text 19

1.6.1 Elaboration Likelihood Model of Persuasion: 19

Motivation 21

Ability 22

Opportunity 23

1.6.2 Content, Style and the Use of Illustrations: 24

The Instruction Material 25

Content: 26

Argument types and strength 26

Argument relevance 26

Arguments and new information 27

Fear appeals 27

Anecdotes and Explanations 28

Heuristics 28

Counter-arguments 29

Style: 29

Direct speech 30

Adjectives 30

Illustrations: 31

Colours: 31

Desirability and Likeability 31

1.6.3 Attention, comprehension and acceptance 32

1.7 Definition of the problem 33

2. Method 35

2.1 Material 35

2.2 Research Design 35

2.3 Instrumentation 35

2.3.1 Part 1: Characterising the instruction material 36

2.3.2 Part 2: Questioning attitude towards safe sex 36

2.3.3 Part 3: Questioning attitude towards the instruction material 38

2.4 Subjects 40

2.4.1 Subjects South Africa 40

2.4.2 Subjects Dominican Republic 40

2.5 Procedure	40	3.4 Linking attitude towards safer sex to the instruction material	58
2.5.1 Procedure Part 1	40	3.4.1 Behaviour and Need for Cognition, Involvement and Overall Evaluation	59
2.5.2 Procedure Part 2 and 3	41	3.4.2 Beliefs on condom use and Need for Cognition, Involvement and Overall Evaluation	60
2.5.3 Procedure South Africa	41	3.4.3 Norms on condom use and Need for Cognition, Involvement and Overall Evaluation	62
2.5.4 Procedure Dominican Republic	42	3.4.4 Partner Communication and Need for Cognition, Involvement and Overall Evaluation	63
3. Results	43	3.4.5 Self-efficacy and Need for Cognition, Involvement and Overall Evaluation	65
3.1 Results Part 1: Characterising the instruction material	43	3.4.6 Self-esteem and Need for Cognition, Involvement and Overall Evaluation	66
3.2 Results Part 2: Attitudes towards safe sex	44	3.4.7 Knowledge and Need for Cognition, Involvement and Overall Evaluation	67
3.2.1 Behaviour	45	4. Conclusion and Discussion	71
3.2.2 Beliefs	46	4.1 Attitude change	71
3.2.3 Norms	48	4.2 Attitude and instruction material	72
3.2.4 Partner Communication	49	4.2.1 Attitude towards the “Together We Can”-programme	73
3.2.5 Self-efficacy	50	4.2.2 Linking attitude change to textual elements	78
3.2.6 Self-esteem	51	4.3 Conclusion	79
3.2.7 Knowledge	53	5. Literature	81
3.3 Results Part 3: Attitudes towards the instruction material	55	Appendices	84
3.3.1 Need for Cognition	55
3.3.2 Involvement	56
3.3.3 Content, Style and Illustrations	56
3.3.4 Overall Evaluation	57		